Dear Mr Chbib,

Your company, Advanced German Technology (AGT), has asked Fox-IT to provide Forensic/EnCase training/consultancy for one of their clients in Cairo, Egypt. Fox-IT can provide this training/consultancy for a small group of participants in week 26 of 2008 (24-26 June 2008).

A senior forensic IT expert will provide the training/consultancy in Cairo, Egypt. The client candidates attending the training have been working with EnCase since 1 year in their data recovery lab. The training/consultancy will focus on hands-on assistance on using EnCase in forensic and data recovery cases. Furthermore, the training/consultancy will cover more general forensic topics. The client is also looking for assistance in some specific cases, this will also be provided where possible.

Given the limited time available, it is advisable if the client candidates beforehand provide questions or topics they would like to be covered in the training. Please note that these topics do not have to be limited to EnCase: our forensic IT investigators have a broad allround background and are able to cover topics on other software packages, forensic hardware or general forensic procedures.

This training/consultancy will be carried out by Fox-IT in week 26 of June 2008 (24 to 26 June) in Cairo, Egypt. The on-site period for this training/consultancy is 3 days.

Fox-IT will not provide hardware or software to be used in the training/consultancy sessions; the client will arrange for this.
